[By Cable to The Tribune.]

LONDON, Aug. 15.—[Special Cable Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.]—The enemy of the Irish reformers have a considerable discussion in their ranks during the current month. Will the passenger and freight traffic were doubled. The hiring of a few additional guards to the gates of the convict prison and their transfer to the guard of the warders, the passage of the short service bill, and the appointment of a committee to consider the question of increasing the pay of the warders. The introduction of Sunday is now in the opening hours of the Irish Parliament to permit the holding of unopposed meetings of the Irish members of Parliament, which has been one great source of trouble in the Irish House, owing to many of the Irish members residing at a distance from the House of Commons. It is said that the deliberations in the Irish Parliament will be begun at 12 o'clock instead of 4 o'clock, as at present.

Lord Rosebery and the authorities at Dublin Castle are thoroughly pleased at the improvement of feeling in the Nationalist camp which made the Irish Reformers' Union at Dublin, in the case of the Parliamentary election. With a view of encouraging every opinion that the Union will be thorough, Mr. Redmond, with the Chairman of Liberal Associations, has been sent over to Dublin to speak at the meeting. So far the appearance of Liberals here and there in the Nationalist camp has not been received with favor by the Irish Nationalists, who have always been accustomed to look upon the Liberals as their enemies. The Irish Reformers' Union, which is composed of Liberals, Nationalists, Unionists, and Irish Labor men, is the result of the Irish Reform Association, which was founded by Mr. Redmond, Mr. Sexton, and Mr. Dillon, and which has been in existence for some years. The Irish Reformers' Union is the result of the Irish Reform Association, which was founded by Mr. Redmond, Mr. Sexton, and Mr. Dillon, and which has been in existence for some years. DEFILEMENT.

Perhaps that is too strong a word to apply to ink spots on the fingers, to the rust carelessly caught from the neglected gutter, or the hasty stains which follow the plants. But whatever you call them they can be easily removed with Hand Sapolio. It costs a cake at all grocers.

THE CITY.

PERSONAL.

Lieut. F. Von Tein, U. S. A., is at the Grand Pacific.

Gen. U. S. Grant, Jr., of London, is at the Grand Pacific.

Miss Kate Jeffrey Cole, Master of Hounds, Utah, is at the Palmer.

Lieutenant-Governor J. S. Hoyt of Washington, D. C., and A. W. Peaslee, U. S. A., are at the Grand.

IN GENERAL.

The responsible bond question is still the first that either question would receive, and under the new plan of action of which the Commissioners and Council have full control.

Albert Bolles of the old Board of Trade is dead. He was the inventor of a terrible engine of destruction, a piece of machine that could, and often was operated, managed by a driving weight or the living thought in a man's brain.

The survivors of the Fifteenth Battalion of Illinois Veterans will combine with committee of the Grand Army to prepare for the reception to be held at the Chicago Driving Park on the 31st inst. Over 400 old soldiers are expected to participate. Arrangements will be made to conduct members to their city who will be present at the reunion.

At the last mass in the Cathedral of the Holy Name yesterday the Archbishop, Rt. Rev. Bonaventure Ten Hompel, officiated for the last time as rector of the first Roman parish. The present week will be the last in the city of the parish and staff now in this mission. The mission will consist of eight priests, to the morning sermon of which Father Ten Hompel preached yesterday, by the Rev. D. Devine and Archbishop of the Diocese.

Joseph White of 711 W. Oakwood avenue found the body of a man floating in the lagoon in Lincoln park, at a point about 200 feet south of the north bridge, yesterday morning. The corpse was that of a man about 40 years old, 5 feet 8 inches high, dark hair, dark beard, and dressed in dark clothes. The body was identified by Frank Hall, 1,000 Wells street, as that of a man who had been employed by him as a carpenter. The body was taken to the morgue.

Several well-known citizens have been added to the Grand Jurymen of this city. The Republican Police Justice, S. C. has been serving a sentence from Governor Fifer, and the Democratic Police Justice, S. C. has been serving a sentence from Governor Oglesby
